Presstext – long Version

Pure entertainment: Die One Man Folk Rock Band

As the frontman of the bands "Off Limits" and "Pangea", the charismatic Musician from Oldenburg known to many folk fans. The program of his Concerts consists of the catchy melodies of his own songs, Celtic and Pagan Folk as well as some selected cover songs. Sometimes fast and rousing, sometimes delicate and virtuoso - with his very own musical style the soulful singer easily reaches people's hearts.

Through the skillful use of a small device at his feet, the "Loopstation" (known by Ed Sheeran or Tash Sultana, among others), quickly merge different instruments into complex arrangements. In addition to his voice and his 12-string guitar, he also uses unusual instruments such as didgeridoo, bones, Irish flutes, and darbuka (Arabian drum) and some more. The viewers then experience up close how a song is created. Marcus also likes to involve the audience spontaneously, e.g. as a "background choir".
